Agrian Disturbances Growing in Minsk District.

Petrograd, May 26.—Agrian disturbances in the Minsk district are rapidly getting beyond control of the militia. Soldiers and farmers sacked the estate of Prince Mirsky.

Use Labor on Crops to Best Advantage.

Many farmers deceive themselves in thinking that as long as they keep busy they are doing as much as can be accomplished. Labor should be expended where it will count for the most. A little effort expended at the right time is often more productive of results than much work done later, which is only another way of saying that "a stitch in time saves nine." Take cultivation for instance. One reason why the soil is cultivated is to keep down weeds. Weeds can best be killed when young. Hence if we cultivate corn and potatoes, using weedeaters and smoothing harrows soon after planting will prove several times as effective as the same amount of work done later in the season. If one delays for long between plowing and harrowing it generally requires more work to make a mellow seed bed than if prompt work is done.

The extension service of the University of Vermont and the county agricultural agents are encouraging especially this year those farm practices which cost little and may save much; such for example, treating seed oats to prevent smut, treating seed potatoes for scab, spraying potatoes for blight and bugs, spraying oats for kale, and apple trees for insect injuries and fungus diseases. A little labor and a few cents' worth of material expended at the right time may be the means of doubling crop yields. It is poor economy to fit a field for potatoes, to plant the seed, to cultivate the crop and allow blight to nearly destroy it. Bordeaux should be looked upon as an insurance policy.

Furthermore such labor as is available should be made as nearly as may be "one hundred per cent efficient." Labor efficiency does not mean necessarily harder work; it means making each hour's work accomplish the maximum amount. Remember, too, that "A horse standing idle in a barn is equivalent to the hired man asleep in the hay mow."
